Hot off the press: new product factsheets

MESPAS is pleased to announce the publication of 6 new mespas R5 product factsheets. The new product sheets explain the cloud-computing based concept, and provide the most important facts, benefits and functionalities of the system and its software products. Have a look: the sheets are an easy and quick read. Click here

mespas R5: the management information system

Thanks to its reporting engine, mespas R5 is more than a technical management software, in effect it's a management information system. As the system is based on cloud computing, users can select pre-configured or customized reports when and where they require it. Read more
